Solid Waste & Recycling Coordinator Offers Free Education Classes

Farmington, Minn., April 8, 2024 – Farmington’s Solid Waste and Recycling Coordinator Violet Penman will be offering free classes in April about recycling and organics at the Rambling River Center, 325 Oak St.

Crash Course: Recycling will be held Thursday, April 18 from 7-8 p.m. Recycling doesn’t have to be confusing. This crash course explains where our recycling goes, and why it works. Learn tips and tricks to recycle right and have your questions answered by an industry professional.

Crash Course: Organics will be held Thursday, April 25 from 7-8 p.m. Organics drop-offs and composting have become increasingly trendy topics in the past years, but what are they? Learn more about how composting works, how it benefits our community, and how you can easily do your part in this crash course. Attendees will have the chance to win a kitchen countertop bin to collect food scraps.

No registration is necessary as these classes are free.
